Adams was sentenced on August 20, 1952 for the murder of his aunt, Katherine Hay by striking, beating and cutting her with an ax in February of 1952. He is serving a 50 year prison sentence.

Farmers Urged To Release Land Before April 16

Those who have decided not to plant their alloted acreage in cotton this year have been advised by local Production Marketing Association officials to release their land prior to April 16 so that their acreage allotment will remain the same next year.

One hundred and fifty farmers have placed application for additional land amounting to 725 acres. Although these farmers are alloted additional land on April 16 it will not go on their record but will be recorded on the farm history of the man releasing the land.

Paul Dillon, Marketing Quota Clerk of the Cameron P. M. A. office, explained that the history of a man's farm will merely show whether or not his acreage was planted in cotton.

"It will be to the farmers advantage", Mr. Dillon said, "To release the land if he doesn't plan to farm it, so that the farm history will show the acerage was farmed and his allotment of land will not be cut next year. Only 190 acres have been released to date.

Fair Turn Out At Polls On April 6 Expected

Election Judge B. J. Matocha said that a fair turn out at the polls is expected on April 6.

He approximated that 800 ballots turned in the coming election. Hours for voting will be from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

He will be assisted by C. E. Triggs and D. B. Gunn.

Red Cross Drive Lagging, Need $700 To Reach City Goal By 31st

Expectations for a $700 quota in the residential portion of the current Red Cross Drive were disappointed last night when only $450 was contributed during the hour long campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Asher, who directed the Residential drive said they were somewhat disappointed, but when the funds from the drives in the Colored and Mexican sections are completed and follow-up calls made to homes which were not contacted last night they hope to fall only about $100 under their goal.

This makes the city funds reach the $1,700 mark with only a few days left, to March 31, until the completion of the annual drive.

Woodrow Lowe, city chairman, said that he is very disappointed that contributions are not more generous, since $3,300 was spent by the Red Cross in Milam County last year. Sixty per-cent of the monies collected will remain in Cameron for local use, with the remainder going into the state and national funds.

Louis McKee, chairman of the business section drive, reported that they hope to complete their part of the program this week. He added that he now has approximately $125 to add to the grand total and hopes to collect at least $200 more during the week.

Section chairmen working with McKee and Bill Arthur, Ed McGufre, Roy Griffith, Harry Haraway, John Seay, Frank Richter, Robert Abel, Hinton Pruett, Morris Eplen, Lee Marek, Donald Glass and August Kunz.

Anyone who has not been contacted and wish to contribute may send their money or check to Jimmy Asher, in care of the Baptist Church or to the general chairman, Woodrow Lowe, in care of the local Humble Oil & Refinery bulk station.

JIMMY WIGGS INSTALLED AS NEW J. C. PRESIDENT AT BANQUET

Jimmy Wiggs was officially installed as the new president of the Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce at their installation service during the ladies night banquet last night, March 22, in the Country Club.

Other officers installed were Don Humble as vice president, Dana Kestenbaum as secretary-treasurer and Jack Slaughter as state director. Those on the board of directors are Robert Abel, Dr. George Bowman, Thelbert Crittendon, Jack DuBois, Reverend Jim McKeown and Jack Prescott.

The evenings festivities for the 44 members and guests present were opened by the out-going president Frank Richter who talked on the accomplishments of the organization during the past year. He introduced the guest speaker, Tommy Cook, of Baytown, who is President of the Texas Jaycees.

Mr. Cook pointed out the many projects completed by other Jaycee organizations and told how Cameron can accomplish more in the future.

The new officers were then installed and Wiggs made a short address on what the club hopes to accomplish during the coming year. He stated that their first objective would be a membership drive in an effort to double their present membership.

After the meeting was adjourned there was dancing to the club record player.

Their next regular meeting will be a luncheon at the Country Club on April 12 when committees will be appointed.

ALL OFFICES UNOPPOSED EXCEPT ALDERMAN POST, CAMPAIGNS FEW

City elections are imminent. Political campaigns for office have become conspicious this year by the complete lack of campaigning.

Voters in this vicinity will find four uncontested names on the ballot when they go to the polls on April 6. O. B. Horstmann, unopposed, up for re-election as mayor; Neomi Harper Needham, unopposed, for re-election as city secretary; Joe Richter, unopposed, for re-election as city marshall and Roy Baskin up for re-election as city attorney, and also unopposed.

Three names, Milton Schiller incumbent, Roy Griffith and A. N. Green, will be on the ticket in a race for two alderman positions. All of these men have previously held offices with the city administration and most of them are basing their campaigns on their past records.

The three aldermen still having one year remaining in their three year term are John Anders, Robert Weems and Gene Blake.

Serving as election judge for the April 6 election will be B. J. Matocha, who will be assisted by Claude Triggs and Dan Gunn.

In a statement to the press encumbent O. B. Horstmann stated Tuesday, March 23, "The program that I would approve would be a continuation of advancement and improvement of our city and a continuation of harmony in the City Council."

Each of the candidates for alderman were contacted for statements of their reasons for seeking office and their aims if elected.

Milton Schiller

Schiller, who has served the community in the capacity of alderman for two terms, stated, "I am naturally interested in seeing Cameron have all public improvements, because I have invested my life savings in the community and feel that public improvements will attract other people and industry into this vicinity. This, of course, creates more and better business and bet-

Ninty Per Cent Of Tomato Crop Killed By Frost

The recent frost took its toll in truck and fruit crops around Milam County. Approximately fifty per cent of the tomatoes in the county were planted. About ninty per cent of these suffered from the frost and were killed. Conserning the fruit, J. D. Moore, Milam County Agrciultural Agent, said the county does not have enough commercial fruit to effect the economical standpoint. It was reported however, that many of the young budding trees were nipped by the frost.

On cnecking with Foster Produce Co. it was found that a few tomato plants were available, however, shipment from the Valley was due Friday morning. Rutgers is the principal variety planted in this area, however, a few others are also planted.

Moore said he believes that not any of the young corn up was damaged by the cold weather. He said the reason for this is that it wasn't old enough.

W. T. Whitaker of the Marlow community, will be planting his tomatoes for the third time this year. Whitaker said that is the

36 Schools To Enter Cameron Relays Saturday, 14 Events Set

Yoe high school will be host to 36 schools Saturday, March 27, for the twentieth annual Invitational Cameron Relays.

Instead of the approximated 400 atheletes expected 576 boys will participate in the 14 events to be held in the stadium starting promptly at 10:30 a.m.

Coach Leo Jackson of Cameron, who will direct the days activities, said that schedules are being planned to the second so that preliminaries can be finished during the morning hours and finals will start immediately at 7:30 p.m. He stated this is the largest amount of schools and athletes Cameron has had the honor to entertain and added that there is going to be some hard competition to beat.

Twenty-five local teen-agers will be on the team contending for the three trophies to be awarded. The Cameron Herald will sponsor a trophy to be presented to the high-point team; the Coca Cola Company has donated a trophy to be awarded the high point man of the day and Yoe Schools will present a plaque to the team winning the mile relay. Winners of each event will be awarded a gold, silver or a bronze medal. All trophies and medals are now on display at McIntosh's Department Store.

Coach Jackson said it looks like Waco High school, a four-A school, will be the favorites of the day, having recently walked off with top honors at the Dogwood Relays in Palestine, Texas.

Coffee Prices Predicted To Reach $1.27

Calling all coffee drinkers! If you wish to keep your mental equilibrium and not be thrust on the horns of a pink-eared, ring-failed delima' start drinking tea.

Yes, the future looks bleak, for coffee prices are once again on the march, and their path is upward. Furthermore, it looks as though many a moon will pass before things start looking up and coffee prices start coming down.

One month ago most brands of coffee could be purchased for a measley 94 cents a pound, then it went up to $1.05 and the next time you buy this delightful beverage the price tag will probably read $1.13. This demoralizing story goes on until coffee reaches the unprecedented price of $1.27 per pound.

Postal Employees Unsatisfied With Bill For Re-Classification Of Duties

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

Little thought is given to the mailman when the mail-box is opened on the stormiest of days and the letters are found safely inside where the "courier" placed it.

Even the government has long neglected its "orphan", as it is commonly known, with many years having elapsed since any legislation for postoffice employees.

When asked about the advantages of the pay raise bill now up for approval, J. R. Hays, local post master, explained that the bill is not primarily a pay-hike, but a complete re-classification program.

He stated that although he would like to see all postal get a substantial raise, this bill will primarily raise the salaries in positions here-to-fore impossible to fill on the present rate scale.

Postal employees start at a Grade 1 classification and advance yearly until a position of Grade 9 is reached. If this bill is passed, Mr. Hays pointed out,

F. H. Scarborough Improves Grazing Land On Farm

Edwin Fischer

F. H. Scarborough has a farm of 125 acres supporting 85 head of cattle. His farm is in the Little River bottom, one mile from Cameron on highway 77. Oats, bur cloven, and hubam furnish grazing during the winter and spring months. Bermuda is grazed in the summer and fall, giving a good pasture every month of the year.

Last fall, a heavy application of phosphate was put on all of the pasture. The fertilizer distributor that Scarborough used skipped a few small places. The hubam on the places that did not get the phosphate is about three inches tall; on the other land, the clover is about 12 inches tall. This is a good demonstration of the importance of phosphate to legumes.

Scarborough has just sodded about 25 acres of bermuda grass. He plowed the sod from the river bank and sodded it in rows 36 inches wide. When the grass begins to put out green leaves, it will be fertilized with 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre. This fall, the bermuda will be overseeded with hubam clover.

If sprigs are available, Scarborough plans to sod a small plot of costal Bermuda this spring. He will use this plot as a source of sprigs in the future. He intends to have the whole farm in this grass within the next few years. Costal Bermuda makes a more upright growth than the common variety. It responds better to high fertility than the common.

Within the next few years, Scarborough hopes to have a still higher grazing capacity with the use of new grasses and legumes and higher rates of fertilization.

In The House Of Representatives

By Herman Yezak

The first week of the special session was devoted mainly to organization of the legislature and to the introduction of bills.

Introduced in the House was a bill to abolish and do away with one-fourth of the four cent tractor or non-highway used gasoline tax refund and to allocate it to the school fund. This proposal is opposed by the Farm Bureau.

The twenty-one member revenue and taxation committee set public hearings for three successive days on tax bills during the second week of special session which included tax on beer, corporate assets, and natural gas. All tax measures must originate in the House.

Two widely different proposals to increase tax on beer were introduced. One bill would raise the beer tax from $1.37 to $10.00 per barrel and the other bill would increase from $1.25 to $2.00 per barrel.

Only one plan was presented to increase the franchise tax which would be an increase from $1.25 to $2.00 per $1,000 of corporate assets.

Five different ways to increase tax on natural gas was included in a series of five bills introduced. Anyone of these proposals would replace the gas tax that was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Four bills were introduced in the Senate and House to outlaw the Communists in Texas. Proposed penalties range from a minimum of 10 years in prison to death and including fines up to twenty thousand dollars. The measure would broaden the use of search warrants and injunctions and create a board to act when and where needed to curb communistic activities.

In the Senate a resolution was presented to stop payment of state money to Duval County and its two school districts until the state audit is completed on the financial affairs of the county.

Receiving the oath of office were five new House members that were elected in special elections to fill vacancies created by one death and four resignations. New members are O. H. Schram. Taylor, Williamson County; Charles D. Kirkman, Jr., Cleburne, Johnson County; George Ford, Bogota, Red River County; Lt. Jim Moore, Arlington, Tarrant County; and Miss Maude Isaacks of El Paso.

Vacancies created by death of Rep. H. A. Hull of Fort Worth and resignation of Rep Bill (Jitterbug) Henderson of Houston, due to illness, came after it was too late to hold special elections and name replacements in time for the special session.

Governor Shivers delivered his message opening the special session to a joint session of the House and Senate which was considered by observers as a statesmanship approach to the problems for which the legislature was assembled.

Lawn Improved Smell Removed Judge Behooved

Courthouse employees seem to think that if the cotton hulls which cover the courthouse lawn are as effective to the soil as they are to the air there will not be any better land anywhere in the country.

From the smell of things the hulls are certainly doing what they are supposed to do, decay. Mrs. Alice Hughes of the Federal Agricultural Agency said the burrs were put on the lawn to decay and later be turned under to add organic matter to the soil.

Unbelivable as it seems, this little project will still require the addition of fertilizer.

According to Judge Charles Smith, things will get back to normal the first part of next week when the hulls and the odor will be turned over.

He said the lawn has been in bad condition with only clover and no grass to speak of. By adding humus to the soil and then seeding with Bermuda grass he hopes to have a lawn all the county will be proud of by the middle of the summer.

TODAY'S TELEPHONE TIP
by Emily Post

A correspondent says: "The other day, I was working in the garden. Three times within an hour, my telephone rang and, each time, the person calling hung up before I could get to the phone. Will you please remind your readers how annoying this is?"

I'll be very glad to. One of the fundamental courtesies, yet one of the most neglected, is giving the person you call ample time to answer the telephone. It so happens, that person is busy and cannot reach the telephone immediately. Always wait at least a full minute before you hang up.

Zest Is Apt Description Of Mrs. Magers, Citizen Of The Year

Cameron's leading lady of the year, Mrs. Mark C. Magers could have her personality and entire character described in one thought - provoking word - Zest!

With the sincerity of one seeking no reward but merely doing what they love to do, Mrs. Magers was quick to point out that there are many more deserving of the "Citizen of the Year" award which was presented her at a recent Chamber of Commerce banquet. Much of the credit for the success of her four choral groups was attributed to her accompaniests, Mrs. Jack DuBois and Miss Mildred Thornton, her co-workers and the director of the community choir, Mrs. Joe Hickman.

The graciousness and quite dignity of the Magers home and the prominence of the piano, reflect her need for beauty and love of fine music. In relating her musical background Mrs. Magers told of the fine voices of the other members of her family and the emphasis placed on good music by her entire family.

She immediately started forming and teaching choral groups upon her marriage to Dr. Magers, a well known Methodist minister.

One of her first projects after arriving here four years ago was the instigation of the mens chorus, later named the Choralers.

At the outset there were only six members in the group and discouragement became a shadow at each meeting for the first few weeks; and then the group began to thrive. The new members brought with them an enthusiasm and re-newed interest which in time transferred itself to the distaff side of the community. They, in turn, asked and received the assistance of Mrs. Magers in starting the Choralettes. Then the groups merged their 40 voices and became famous for the quality of their concerts. This is their third season and instead of wanning interest, Mrs. Magers said that their self-confidence is steadily growing and more difficult arrangements are now being sung with no degree of doubt.

This by no means ends Mrs. Magers attempts at making all inhabitants of Cameron musicconscious. There is the Cherub and the Childrens Choir which, during the past year, have borrowed no fame but become renowned in their own right. Most cherished of the pictures of her stu-nts of every age range, seem to be the ones showing the happy bright faces of the youngsters.

She is quick to explain to her pupils to work hard at their voice control and learn to love all music, for this, she states, is one thing you can enjoy all your life and take with you into heaven.

A girls trio, composed of Shirley Horstmann, Billie N. Johnson and Lucille Monroe also coached by Mrs. Magers, is now receiving acclaim.

The zest, interest and honest love of humanity imparted by Mrs. Magers shows an every day religion worthy of any award, including "The Citizen of the Year."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

You Might Call it a "Gravy Train"

Was reading the other day about a Maharaja in India who has a miniature electric train all made of silver. Now, maybe that's not unusual for a prince, but this fellow had it running around on an enormous dining table in the royal palace.

The twelve cars on the train are loaded with different kinds of fruits, nuts, and beverages. And the train stops automatically in front of each plate so the person sitting there can choose what he wants.

From where I sit, the Maharaja is really going to extremes to impress his guests. Around this part of the world, hospitality certainly doesn't need all those fancy trimmings.

You don't have to spend a lot of money or go to a lot of work when folks drop in. Just offer them what you have—coffee, tea, a temperate glass of beer—and let them make their own choice. They'll feel they're getting a royal welcome!

STREET —
Kelley, of Houston, in checking each city street against a map of the city to make certain that each street is accurately charted and to supply a name for the street if necessary.

Mr. Abel reported that each street within the city limits was checked and a map designating site and name of markers will be presented to the City Council for approval immediately on completion.

Decision on the purchase of street signs will be decided upon by councilmen after presentation of the map. This project has long been contemplated in an effort to have more efficient mail delivery within the city.

COTTON —
Randolph, Entomologist from Texas A & M College.

The time of poisoning the cotton crop was the most specified item pointed out by Elliott. Bush brought some interesting notes to the farmers and ginners of the county. He said to raise good grade of cotton begins with the kind of seed that is planted, and the way it is harvested. Bush showed several slides of cotton being harvested, which also involved a cotton picking machine.

Bush stressed the fact that so many of the cotton farmers stomp and compress their cotton in the trailer before carrying it to the gin. This, Bush emphasized is one of the most corrupt things a farmer can do to his cotton. Any foreign articles or dried leaves that is found among the cotton boles, will be crushed and packed into it, which naturally later reduces the grade of the cotton.

The Cotton Gin Specialist also recommended an open trailer where air could circulate through without any difficulty. He said the cotton needs air to prevent it from heating when it must remain in the gin yard any length of time.

J. D. Moore, county agricultural agent, was present and added different points at the meeting, which was presided over by John A. Smith, president.

The meeting was then turned over to those present and an open discussion was held. Questions of the different items brought out were asked, and about poisons and insecticide. The harm of the pink boll worm was also discussed. Milam County, however, is not too infested with this harmful insect.

Following the close of the meeting, refreshments of coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. S. W. McClaren, Jr., Mrs. T. R. Allen, Mrs. O. G. Tumlinson, Mrs. Berneice Charles, and Miss Leonora A. Bickett.

first time in all of his years as a truck farmer that he is forced to plant his crop three times. An earlier frost killed 100 per cent of the tomatoes and this recent frost killed 98 per cent of the young plants. Whitaker just returned from the valley where he secured a load of young plants. He remarked that the tomato plants were getting scarce there, but noted the valley farmers will have a record breaking cantaloup crop this summer.

A spokesman for Foster Produce Co. said Milam county will probably have another big tomato season, providing the tomato areas have favorable weather conditions.

Moore stated that he hasn't seen the Milam soil in a better condition than it is now. Enough moisture was accumulated from last year's rain fall of 42.51 inches, to put the soil in a good condition. However, many of the farmers in certain areas are badly in need of rain. Only 2.62 inches have falled thus far during 1954.

Senator Secrest To Continue TV Talks

Senator Jarrard Secrest of Temple will continue his weekly legislative reports over KCEN-TV each Saturday evening at 6:15 during the remainder of the Special Session of the Texas Legislature.

The series of weekly reports, which began last week, will analyze and interpret the trend of legislative events and will summarize each week's activities.

HEALTH UNIT —
ness. The cooperation of the operators has been excellent.

Water and sewer extensions are continuing in the cities of Cameron and Rockdale. Many improvements have been noted along these lines. These will greatly improve the water and sewage facilities in these towns.

Considerable time has been spent during the month with the inspections of private premises and the supervision of the installations of more modern and safer equipment. This is especially true on some of the larger farms and ranches of the county.

A request has been received for percolation tests in the sixty acre F. M. Praesel subdivision in the City of Rockdale, for the purpose of determining the advisibility of installing septic systems for the new homes in this addition. This project will be undertaken in the near future.

All nuisance complaints, that have come to the attention of the sanitarian, have been investigated promptly and corrections have been obtained in a majority of cases.

Visitors for the month: Mr. Charles O. Blalock, Vocational Rehabilitation, Texas Education Agency; Mr. James E. Peore, A & M Extension Service, College Station; Mr. J. B. Doss, V. D. Investigator, State Health Department; Mr. Phillip W. Gauss, Tuberculosis Division, State Health Department; Dr. N. C. Leone, Chief Medical Investigator, National Research Institute, Bethesda, Md.; and Miss Patricia Gieser. R. N. Public Health Nurse.

Plans are being formulated for the mass Tuberculosis Chest X-ray survey to be in Milam County in month of May. Mr. Hinton Pruett has accepted the job of county chairman again this year.

Staff personnel of the Unit are Dr. John B. Bryson, director; Mrs. Hortense N. Tumlinson, clerk; Mrs. Billie Gleason, nurse and D. S. Wimberly, sanitarian.

CULPEPPER —

The circling beds of Azelea backed with Berford Holly and other greenery surround the Culpeppers home in the Country Club addition.

Mrs. Culpepper said that the fragile blooms of the plants have been damaged somewhat by the recent freeze, the constant March winds and the dust storms; but they are still beautiful and fresh looking.

Some of the types of Azaleas to be found in the garden are the Christmas Cheer variety, the President Clay, White Snow, Pride of Mobile and the Formosa.

Each of the artistically arranged beds is bordered with English ivy, which sets off the beauty of the Azalea blooms, and graciousness and beauty of the Culpepper home.

POSTAL

Grade one employees will receive what grade three employees now receive or a sum of $230 more a year.

Clerks and letter carriers are opposed to the bill for the simple reason that they have been promised a raise for the past two years and if this bill passes without substantially boosting their salaries it may prove detrimental to a bill requesting higher postal wages.

Clerks in the local office are Joe Matula, J. F. Matula, Grady Cooper and August Knipp. Carriers are Erle Burke, Alvin Mullinax and Paul Laake.

COFFEE —

When Henry Pattillo, buyer for the local McLane Wholesale Grocers concern, was asked what was causing the exclusive coffee inflation he explained that it is the old supply and demand problem. For the past several months, he reported, we have been drawing from a reserve supply, now that is gone and America must reley on the present crops which have been deminished by a freeze in South America which killed many of the coffee trees. He relentlessly added that prices will probably stay on the incline until the supply has been replinished.

On goes the tale of woe, complete in every detail. At the 41st convention of the Texas Wholesale Grocers Association in Dallas on March 18, 19 and 20, which Pattillo attended, Dr. Arthur Smith, Economist at the Dallas First National Bank, was the guest speaker. He stated that by 1956 prices on most foods and commodities will be doubled.

Mr. Pattillo said that most of the other authorities were little more kind to the gourmet however with no price hike or decline seen in the near future.

ter opportunities for the people.

Thoughtfully he continued, "Cameron has failed to keep many of its high schoo! graduates at home, and I feel that this is an alarming situation. They go elsewhere for opportunity when I feel that they might have the same opportunities here.

"I am happy," he added, "To have had a part in some of the major advancements of our city.

"During this administration we made an improvement long overdue when we ran the city sewer main line into the colored section. I do not feel that we can have a sanitary town when there is even one section of town without adequate sewer facilities.

"The present administration has also seen to it that the people are receiving full benefit from the water tower which they purchased, by popular vote, in the past. Full and adequate usage of this utility has been delayed in the past by reactionaries in the city government.

"We, of the present admnistration, have also widened the city streets and made numerous improvements to them without it costing the taxpayers a cent. Property owners, subsidized by parking meter funds, financed all curbing, gutters and other improvements in the business section.

"Another necessary improvement I am happy to have been connected with is the addition of vapor-mercury lighting in the business section. Besides adding to the beauty of our city, they have insured the businessmen against burglarly and vandalism.

"We, in accomplishing these improvements, have not burdened the people with bonds or high taxes but have wisely applied the money at our disposal through regular channels.

"In the future," he concluded, "by the same means of a wise application of money on hand and sticking to the city budget, I hope to work toward getting our streets in better condition and getting the city water supply approved by the State Water Department. We are now planning to see that every street within the city is named and marked so that every section of town can have efficient mail delivery.

"Of course," in all the improvements I have listed, I feel that we must go only as far as our present taxes will permit and not raise the taxes nor issue bonds for this generation and the next to pay for."

Roy Griffith

Roy Griffith, who also bases his campaign on his past record in the community, states, "There are so many things that our town needs that it is hard to say what we need most. Two of the things I feel are of utmost importance are better streets in the residential sections and better sanitation.

"I want to have the best town we can possibly have," Mr. Griffith stated, "without any more taxes."

"As most of you know," he added, "many improvements were made without added taxation during my prior affiliation with the city administration. After 10 years as alderman and two years as mayor of Cameron I feel that I am experienced enough to know the real needs of our town and to accurately represent the people.

In concluding his statement he explained, "I am making this race for Alderman strictly on my past record. I will appreciate your vote and do my best to serve my community in every way that I can. Be sure to vote."

A. N. Green

After much deliberation and an eloquence of expression attributed to an intelligent, seasoned campaigner, Green outlined his views and platform for Alderman.

First he spoke on good government in general and the necessity for harmony and cooperation within the city administration. He forcefully pointed out the need for every man on the city staff to know the powers, duties and reragatives of his office and how each office fits in with the government of the city and the accurate representation of all classes of that cities people.

"What is my platform?" he questioned, "Well, I stand for a progressive administration, efficiently and economically administered with a view to giving the working man his fair share of benefits from his tax dollar, " and having each penny ... into our city accounted for ... accomplishing improvements."

Witn assurance he added, "I have lived over half a century in Cameron and most of the people know me. I stand or fall on my reputation."

Progressive Farmer Carries Article About Hal Senkel

The April edition of 'The Progressive Farmer' carried an article about Hal Lester Senkel of Buckholts, who won the State Contest sponsored by the Texas Hybrid Seed Corn Growing Association. Also mentioned was Mike Robinson of Bell County, who placed second.

The article read as follows:

"Fighting the drouth to grow top yields of corn was a problem for Texas farmers last year. But Hal Lester Senkel, Milam County 4-H'er, showed others how it was done. His corn plot produced 137.6 bushels to the acre. This record placed Hal first among 130 youngfolks and adults entering the state contest sponsored by the Texas Hybrid Seed Corn Growing Association.

Hal received a plaque as state winner in the contest. He also received $50 for placing first in the Central Texas area of the contest.

Before seedingtime Hal sent nine samples of soil from his demonstration plot to Texas A & M College. There the soil-testing laboratory determined fertilizer recommendations. Hybrid No. 30 seed was selected. Hal planted the corn on March 19. Later it was irrigated three times and cultivated twice.

Mike Robinson, Bell County, placed second to Senkel in the Central Texas area contest with a yield of 115 bushels per acre. He received a cash award of $35.

C. A. Price headed his article about the Milam 4-H'er, "Growing Corn in Texas."

PUBLIC SCHOOL EDUCATION ON MARCH DURING PAST 100th YEARS

Because "the general diffusion of knowledege" was considered good, the constitution of Texas set forth one hundred years ago the provisions necessary to make free public education possible.

In the one hundred years of their existence, the public schools have seen vast increase in the amount of knowledge to be "diffused". They have seen the teaching methods of a few generations ago gradually undergoing changes; but, most important of all, they have seen the aims and the ideals of public education change, and, as is fitting, the ideals are yet in advance of actual practice.

The modern schools accept a dual purpose as their reason for existance; first, the training for American Citizenship; second, assisting each person to become what he was destined to be.

In an age when the American way of life was never in greater jeopardy, the responsibility falls firmly upon schools not only to teach about democracy, but to set up a program which embodies the very doctrines that are being taught. It is not enough to instill sentimental patriotism, because the democratic ideals are not inherent. It is one of the aims of a democratic society to recognize not only each person's contribution to the community but also the valuable qualities of that person.

A school therefore is not an organization designed principally to determine which among the community's children are qualified for college entrance and which ones, by the same standards, are failures. It is an organization whose only justification for existence is that it can develop the individual worth of each child who enters and leaves.

Along with these changing ideals have come changes in the teaching processes. This business of learning, so often discussed, so well explained, and so poorly understood even by the experts, continues to go on. We cannot wait for the perfect methods to be evolved, but teachers have come to understand that children learn by doing, beginning with their own familiar surroundings and with activities important to them. School is not just a preparation for life, but is life itself, and should let them feel the present satisfaction of living their way through life.

We are no longer conducting schools solely for the purpose of instilling high academic ideals. We are not conducting schools to "show off" teachers who have attained these ideals. We are attempting to guide each child who enters toward a better life, along the natural lines of his own interest and ability. For that purpose alone, our schools devote their planning and directing because education is of no value unless it makes life richer.

3,900 License Plates Sold Thus Far In County

By Tuesday afternoon, March 23, 3,900 license plates had been sold in Milam County, according to V. T. White, County Tax Assessor and Collector, this is more than half as many plates as were sold during the entire year of 1953.

He said that although inspection strikers must be obtained by April 15, this is not necessary before registeration as many people think.

Most of the 1954 plates have been for passenger cars, Mr. White stated, with the trucks still slow in registering.

Final date for purchase of license plates is March 31, which is just around the corner, and White advised all those who have not yet registered their cars to do so as soon as possible so that they might avoid the last minute rush.

Sub-stations located throughout the county are Mrs. Lang in Gause, Clements in Thorndale, Otto Kelm in Sharp, A. E. Hensel in Burlington and Gaither Motors in Rockdale.

Mrs. P. A. Tyler of Hoyte is a medical patient at Newton Memorial Hospital.

Yoes Nip Hearne, 9-7 Monday; To Return Game Here Thursday At 3:45

The Cameron baseball team slugged their way to a victory 9-7, over Hearne Monday. The Milam County crew accounted for 10 hits and 9 runs. One error was committed by the Yoes.

The winning pitcher was Joe Michalka who had charge of the mound for five innings in which he struck out 6 batters and walked 2. Alvin Baggerly relieved him in the 6th inning. Baggerly then struck out 4 batters and walked two during the 6th and 7th innings. Jimmy Rettig was behind the place for the winners.

Monroe Bayer, Freshman player for the Yoemen, showed the most out standing record at the batting, getting 3 hits for 4 tries. Steven Polzer got 2 hits for 4 tries.

The Hearne team had 7 runs out of 9 hits and admitted 2 errors.

Coach Joe Hawkins said the Yoemen will return the match here Thursday at 3:45 p.m. when the two teams again clash at the Lawless Green diamond. The probable starting lineup for the Yoes will find W. K. Leonard at short stop; Leon Beale, Center Field; Steve Polzer, second base; Joe Michalka, third base; Bobby Williams, left field; Benny Massengale first base; Monroe Bayer, right field, Jimmy Rettig, catcher and Alvin Baggerly, starting pitcher.

The general public is invited to come out and the admission to the game is free.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER WORKS OUT PLAN TO KEEP TEXAS BIGGEST STATE AND STILL LET ALASKA IN THE UNION

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River has entered the field of statecraft, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

I have been readin lately about the plans Congress has for bringing Hawaii and Alaska into the Union as states, and naturally this has caused considerable confusion, not only among the flag makers but people generally.

I don't know about Hawaii, but there is one thing about Alaska which Texans naturally gag on, and that is, Alaska is bigger than Texas and allowin her to come in would play thunder with certain inalienable rights of this state.

In the first place, we're already livin in a world of doubt and suspicion, where people don't know what they can believe about other people and other nations, and where would it leave the youth of this land if, after years of painstakin effort to teach them that Texas is the largest state in the Union, they suddenly found it wasn't true? A man who couldn't believe Texas is the largest state in the United States would be shorn of one of of the fundamental truths of life.

On the other hand, the people of Alaska, made up of Americans anyway, have a right to send Congressmen to Washington to be shot at the same as any other state, and there's considerable argument in favor of bringin em in. The more Congressmen there are, the better odds each one has of being missed.

But Washington seems to be bogged down with the problem, and consequently I have been giving the matter some serious thought and I believe I have the solution.

Let's let Alaska come on it, but under certain stipulations. For example, figure her ice and snow at only 10 per cent of regular land, which will keep Texas in the clear as the biggest state.

If that won't work, let her in only half at a time, with one state called North Alaska, the other South Alaska. That'll make it easier to balance the stars in the new flag.

If that won't work, get a Constitutional amendment declaring Texas is the largest state, regardless of how much more land is taken into the Union, or let Alaska come in as extra tidelands for those states that haven't got any.

We simply cannot allow the confusion which would result in the minds of people all over the world if the text books had to be re-written sayin Texas is the second largest state in the Union.

Eecond largest? The very words chill the blood of a Texan. It's like sayin the United States is the second best nation in the world.

Congress had better adopt my plan immediately. There are some truths a man should be able to put his hands on and hold to forever.

Yours Faithfully,
J. A.

Cameron Trackmen Show Great Improvement In Giddings Meet

Killeen was the victor in the Giddings Track and Field Meet held Friday afternoon and night. Georgetown, who is a member of District 23-AA, emerged as the third place winner.

Albert Mondrik, a member of the Cameron track team, advanced to the finals in the 220 yard dash, where he was nudged out. Also advancing to the finals in the 100 yard dash was Woodrow Lynch. Joe Lee Heitman placed sixth in the hurdles.

The Cameron boys showed improvement in all their events, marking up a better time and distances than in previous meets, and even though they didn't bring home any of the top prizes, Coach Leo Jackson said the young team showed up good against experience trackmen at the relays. The next big event on the calender is the 20th annual Cameron Relays, scheduled for next Saturday, March 27, at the local stadium.

National Guard Fills Two Vacancies

Lloyd Albertson

Two more of the remaining vacancies in Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion were filled this week, the local National Guard unit reported when releasing the names of the newest Guardsmen.

Sworn in during the drill period on Tuesday evening were George G. Black and W. K. Leonard. Black is a high school student and is a resident of Milano. Leonard resides here in Cameron; he attends Yoe High and played on the school's football and basketball team during the past season and presently a member of the Yoe baseball team. He is also employed by Safeway here.

Another high-light of the drill period was a lecture on operation and maintenance of Battery C's just received M-42 tank. It was given by A. M. Pederson, a representative of the Cadillac Corporation which manufactures the big armored vehicle. He spent much of the two-hour period explaining the M-42's various features to the unit's officers and non-coms. He was assisted by CWO Eugene A. Mees, Battery C's Administrative Assistant, who for the past few days has been taking a course of instruction in Temple for Guard personnel on the new anti aircraft artillery weapon.
